1 Introduction

1.1 Introduction to college

Itahari Namuna College (INC) is a remarkable institution known for its dedication to academic excellence, creativity, and the overall growth of its students. Established in 2070 B.S., the college is strategically located in the vibrant Itahari sub-metropolitan city. INC was founded with a forward-thinking goal: to provide students with unique tools to succeed in our rapidly changing globalized world.

INC offers a wide range of programs to match the diverse interests and career goals of its students, including social work, journalism, hotel management, and computer applications. This extensive curriculum ensures that students from arts, business, or engineering backgrounds can find engaging and career-oriented courses.

The college promotes an environment that encourages students to explore their passions and discover their potential. INC emphasizes the holistic development of its students, combining theoretical knowledge with practical skills and real-life experiences. This approach helps students develop analytical thinking and problem-solving abilities.

1.2 Introduction to course

The Bachelor of Arts and Social Work (BASW) program is a multi-disciplinary course which provides a broad knowledge of the social service sector, which is mostly for the disadvantaged or marginalized group's upliftment and development, addressing social issues, and advocating for social justice. It is deeply rooted in the principles of empathy, compassion, and human rights. It is guided by core values such as respect for individual dignity, commitment to social justice, service to humans and integrity. Its main objective is to build students a self-reliant, responsible, practical and knowledgeable human resource to contribute to help society and build the nation. Through a combination of theoretical coursework, practical training, and fieldwork experiences, students gain a comprehensive understanding of social issues and learn effective strategies for intervention, advocacy, and empowerment.

1.3 Introduction to organization

Sunsari Ward Office, located in Itari-09, operates under the Itahari Sub-metropolitan city and serves as a vital local government unit dedicated to addressing the needs of the community. It provides essential services such as issuing important documents, including citizenship certificates, birth and death registrations, and marriage certificates. In addition to administrative duties, the office is actively involved in community development projects like road construction, environmental cleanliness, and public health initiatives. It supports vulnerable groups, including the elderly, disabled, and economically disadvantaged, through various social welfare programs. The office also plays a crucial role in listening to the concerns of residents and coordinating with the municipality to find appropriate solutions. During natural disasters such as floods or storms, the ward office participates in relief efforts and ensures the safety of affected people. Furthermore, it supports local health centers and schools and works to raise awareness about health and education. The office collaborates with law enforcement to help maintain peace and safety in the community. Under the leadership of Ward President Jitendra Thapa and Ward Secretary Sushila Karki, along with their dedicated staff, the office strives to improve the quality of life for all residents and ensure that no one in the ward is left without assistance.

• Mission

The mission of Itari-09, Sunsari Ward Office is to ensure efficient and transparent local governance by delivering public services, promoting social development, and addressing the needs of its community members. The ward office is committed to inclusive participation, sustainable development, and the welfare of all residents through active engagement and responsive administration.

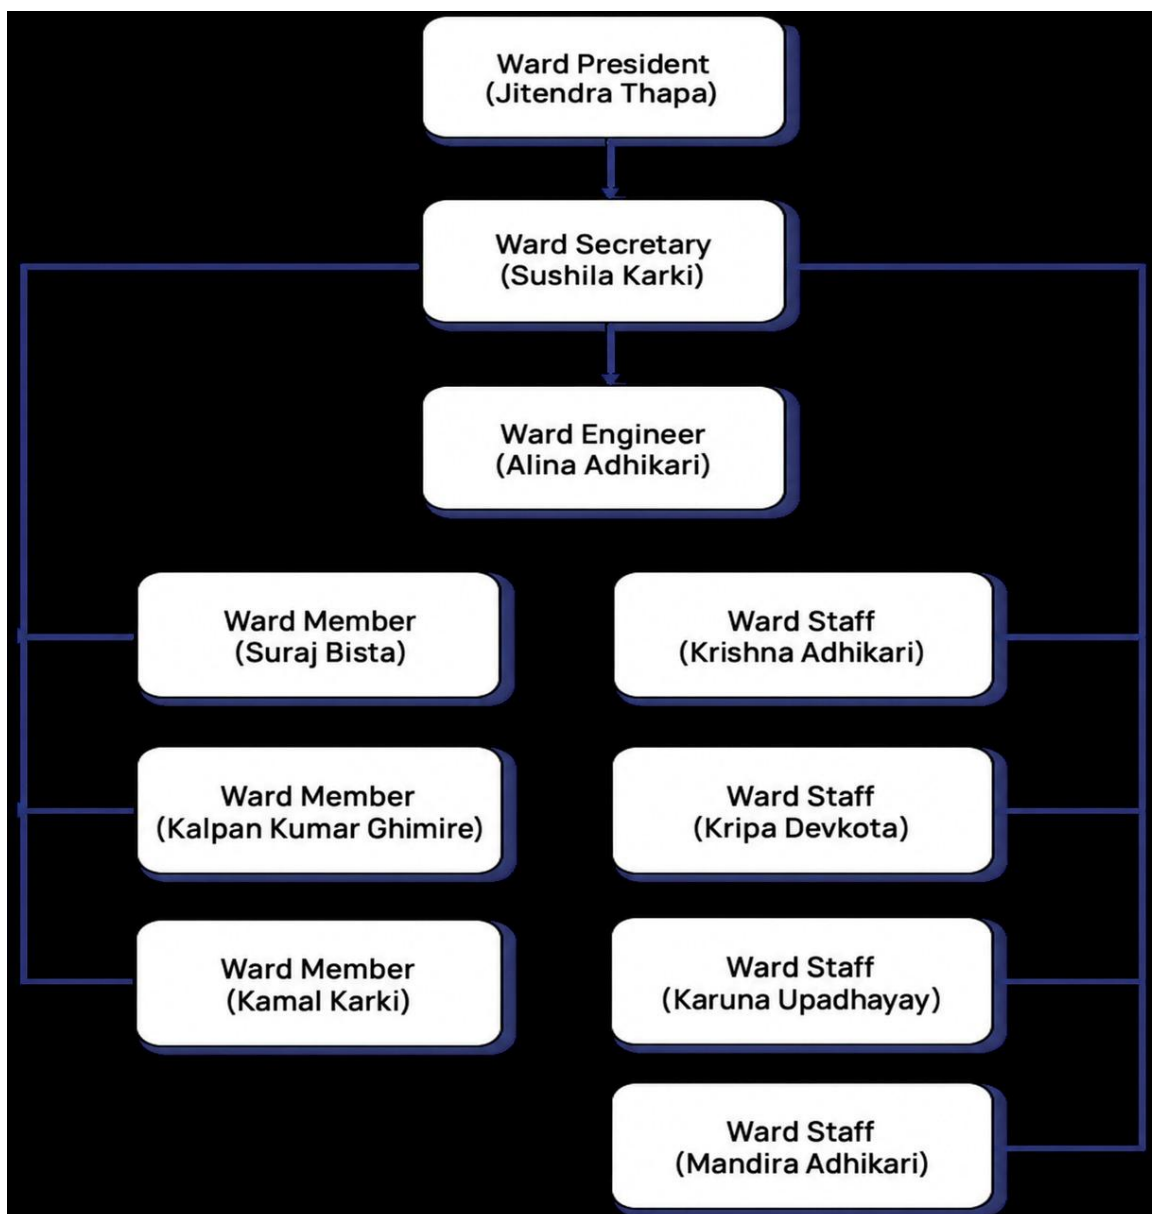

• Vision

Itari-09, Sunsari Ward Office envisions a prosperous, inclusive, and well governed community where every citizen has access to basic services, opportunities for growth, and a voice in local decision-making. The office strives to build a cooperative and self-reliant society by fostering trust between local government and residents.

3 Theory Applied

During internship at Itahari-09, Sunsari Ward Office, Intern learned a lot by practicing and implementing social work principles that allowed intern to gain experience on how to work with the community. Some of the most important principles that Intern used during intern time there are as follows:

Principle of Acceptance

This principle involves treating everybody with respect irrespective of their background, beliefs, or origin. During internship, Intern made sure that Intern listened to the people from the community and treated them with the respect that they deserved irrespective of who they were. By giving them the respect they deserved, Intern was in a position to gain their trust and a point where people felt comfortable when talking to intern.

Non-Judgmental Attitude

A non-judgmental attitude is not making personal judgments about people's lives or problems. Intern met many people who had different kinds of problems while working at the ward office. Intern made sure to listen carefully and assist without judging them. This made people feel at ease to open up and sharing their problems.

Confidentiality

Confidentiality is the protection of people's personal details. When Intern was working at the ward office, Intern managed sensitive personal details. Intern made sure that all things were confidential and secure, and this helped intern to be trusted by the people. It also helped intern to be professional and respectful towards other people's privacy.

4 Overall Learning

During internship at Itahari-09, Sunsari Ward Office, Intern gained a lot of knowledge about office work and people service. Intern learned that filling up and processing important documents like birth certificates, death certificates, migration certificates, old age identity cards, social security allowance forms, and marriage certificates. Intern also gained experience regarding the documents that are needed for each service. Intern was guided by Ward Assistant Suraj Bista and Secretary Sushila Karki. They taught intern to write formal letters, keep records of citizens, organize documents, and deal with people who came to seek help.

Intern also saw the ward office helping the community by providing water pipes, electricity meters, seeds, and fertilizers. They also help poor people with money, organize free health camps, and distribute sporting gear. Intern even helped with work such as a ceremony for the elderly and helping families who lost an individual. Intern gained skills to communicate, manage documents, and be a team member from this internship. Intern also gained the significance of local government in terms of improving the community. Intern learned that it is extremely important to be assistive and solve issues in work directed towards helping people. From this internship, Intern gained skills to implement school work into real work in the ward office.

5 Personal Feelings

Intern experience at Itahari -09, Sunsari Ward Office, was indeed inspiring. During the first day, Intern was treated respectfully by the people working there, especially by Ward President Jitendra Thapa, Secretary Sushila Karki, and Ward Assistant Suraj Bista. They always motivated intern and made intern comfortable while working. Intern was surprised to see professional and humble people and their hard work for the welfare of the local people. Intern learned a lot regarding the importance of working together with people.

Even though intern was contributing very little, it felt good to know that intern was playing a part in helping with the daily affairs that impacted the lives of people. Whether it was organizing important documents or helping others resolve problems, intern could see how these activities made it easier for others to receive government services. Intern was also amazed at the types of programs the ward office offered to help the community, including health camps, farm assistance, and vocational training programs. The ward office was not just an office but a place where interns were able to learn and grow. Intern felt comfortable there and that intern was doing something worthwhile. Intern experienced during this internship is something that intern will always remember, and intern is thankful that interns work with such a hardworking and focused team.

6 Conclusion

In conclusion, internship experience at the Itari-09, Sunsari Ward Office, was a very beneficial experience. During the weeks, Intern gained much knowledge and understood about local government systems. On a daily basis, Intern was faced with tasks and was able to help people, for instance, completing forms and helping services such as health camps.

Lastly, this internship made intern more interested in social work. It increased intern confidence and was a good start to continue to learn and gain skills for the future of serving others and working in the community.

7 Recommendations

- Provide quick and clear training to interns at the beginning so they can understand office tasks and contribute effectively.
- Collect feedback from the public to understand their experience and improve office services.
- Actively inform the community about available programs such as job training and health camps to increase participation.
